

2300 Crenshaw Boulevard, Torrance, California 90501 310.224.4200 www.socalroc.com

For Immediate Release

April 28, 2022

Learn New Skills through Job Training at SoCal ROC this Summer
Torrance, California Campus is Ready to Serve You!

Registration is in progress for summer 2022 job training classes at the Southern California Regional Occupational Center (SoCal ROC). The eight-week summer classes begin on July 5, 2022, and individuals are encouraged to enroll now by calling 310-224-4200 or visiting campus, located at 2300 Crenshaw Boulevard, Torrance, CA 90501.

SoCal ROC is fully accredited and serves both adult learners and local high school students. Training courses for in-demand careers are offered in a number of fields that can get students into good-paying jobs in as little as three to six months for some programs. This summer, courses will be offered in the following programs: Automotive Technician, General Electrician, Welding, Clinical Medical Assisting, Dental Assisting, Emergency Medical Technician, Medical Front Office, Sterile Processing Distribution Technician; and HVAC (Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning). Some courses require completion of prerequisites, so please inquire about prerequisites prior to enrollment.

The SoCal ROC Summer 2022 Class Schedule is available on the SoCal ROC website here: https://socalroc.com/offerings/catSchd_pdf/Tentative_Summer_Schedule_2022_042122.pdf

Summer course fees range between $250 and $1,100, plus additional material costs for some courses. Individuals with an annual income of $34,000 or less qualify for a 20 percent discount on course fees.

“It is gratifying to see students get hired after receiving their training at SoCal ROC,” said Atlas Helaire, SoCal ROC superintendent. “There is a difference between just having a job versus doing something for which you have a passion and can earn a good living. SoCal ROC’s programs and career pathways will provide you with quality educational experiences that will tap into your passion and open doors to exciting career opportunities.”

Current research indicates that many people are looking to change careers post pandemic. According to a survey reported in Forbes magazine last year, one in four workers is preparing to switch jobs. SoCal ROC is the perfect place to train for a new career!

For more information, visit the SoCal ROC website at www.socalroc.com or call 310-224-4200. Class schedules are subject to change.

#

About SoCal ROC

Located in Torrance, California, the Southern California Regional Occupational Center (SoCal ROC) serves adult learners and local high school students. The Center is a leading provider of current and relevant Career Technical Education training programs to meet today's workforce demands and careers of the future! Wage earners today have to be more educated, more technically dependent, and more self-reliant than in the past. Established in 1967, SoCal ROC has remained the model for the State through the development of innovative programs, placing emphasis on technology, and bringing awareness that Career Technical Education is for everyone, from the individual seeking to enter the job market with new skills, or individuals looking to upgrade their current skill set, to the college-prep student who desires greater academic challenge and the opportunity to apply knowledge learned.

Media Contacts:

Charlotte Lassos
Straight Up Communications
charlotte@straightupcomm.com
(310) 529-7098

Atlas Helaire
Superintendent
SoCal ROC
310-224-4200