To whom it may concern,

As neighbors to Elyse and Bobby Imamura, we are in full support of their home becoming a historic home. It is a beautiful property on our street, and has the old charm that Old Torrance is known for. The wood beams in the living room and tile in the bathroom are things that you do not see in homes very often.

They maintained the feel and original features of the home since they purchased it. This takes consideration and is a commitment on their part.

The Spanish style with tile roof is one of my favorite types of homes in the area. We would love to have this home included in our city to be known as a historic home. Thank you for your time.
